

Community services and your rights at work

Come talk about your hopes and expectations for our community. Hear about and discuss the connection between public and community services and your rights at work.

Community Town Hall

Thursday, March 27, 2014 — 7-9 p.m.

Thistletown Community Centre
925 Albion Road (south of Islington), Toronto, ON

Featuring:

Maureen O'Reilly, President of Toronto Public Library Workers Union Local 4948

Barry Marsh, long-time Rexdale community activist and CORD member (Community Organizing for Rexdale Development)

Bill Murnighan, Research Director for Unifor

Refreshments will be served.

For further information contact Steve Watson: 416.727.3793

Unifor is Canada's newest labour union, representing 305,000 members across the country including 158,100 in Ontario. Unifor is a union for everyone, with members in 20 different economic sectors.

Unifor is committed to ensuring safer workplaces, secure employment, wages and benefits that provide a decent standard of living, and dignity and respect in the workplace.

